Museum looking for old photos

The Belle Glade Museum Board/Lawrence E. Will Museum is developing a photographic exhibit depicting Glades area residents and their participation in World War II. The exhibit is planned for public viewing by Veterans Day.

The board is soliciting photographs of those who served in the Army, Navy, Marines, Air Forces, Merchant Marines, Coast Guard, ferry pilots, WACS, Nurse Corps, Civil Defense (air spotters), and Red Cross, in foreign theaters of operations and in the United States during the years 1941 through August, 1946. Other "flat work," such as maps and charts, may be usable also.

Anyone willing to loan and donate such photographs and similar artifacts may leave them with the library staff at the Belle Glade Municipal Library or contact Dr. Joseph R. Orsenigo at 996-7099.

"Olde Towne Hall Sweep" successful

By Buffle Chapman
Staff Writer

The city of Pahokee has applied for a $250,000 grant to help restore and reuse the 1928 Pahokee High School building. It will be known as "Olde Towne Hall" and be used to honor the more than 500 residents whose lives were saved when they sought refuge there during the 1928 hurricane.

On Saturday, August 26, the "Olde Towne Hall" (Save Our School) committee was host to a cleanup day.

Pahokee, the only city to this day that is actually located on the shores of Lake Okechobee, had only been incorporated six years when the 1928 Hurricane struck. Fortunately, the more than 500 residents who sought shelter in the newly completed Pahokee High School were saved, making the school a historical monument to that time in Florida's history.

The building was turned over to the City of Pahokee by the Palm Beach County School Board and has set idle since plans for a proposed shopping center did not materialize.

Despite the recent years of neglect, the Old Pahokee High School still remains sound. As one pioneer so aptly put it, "The school was built to stay."

Though naturally deteriorated, its fine Mediterranean Revival architectural design is still in tact, a fine example of the work of William Manley King.

Committee members say they look forward to the restoration and having the landmark take its place in Florida's history.

Is a business incubator program needed?

During the month of September, local business owners, the community-at-large and potential entrepreneurs will be surveyed to determine if a business incubator program is needed and has the potential for success in Belle Glade.

The Palm Beach County Board of County Commissioners and Department of Economic Development, City of Belle Glade, Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, Glades Community Development Corporation and the Private Industry Council have joined hands to find out if the community is desirous of implementing and supporting this business endeavor.

Incubator programs are in existence all over the world and presently over 600 are operating in the United States.

Incubators have proven time and time again, in both rural and urban areas, that this program can tremendously increase the success rates of small business ventures. Traditionally, 90 percent of new small businesses fail within the first year, but after five years of being in business, 80 percent of the graduates from incubator programs are still successfully in business.

Business incubators can take different forms, but traditionally, they provide educational programs that will help the entrepreneur develop a written business plan, access financial guidance, establish good record-keeping practices, learn the legal requirements for starting and operating a small business, and explore different marketing techniques. Incubators can provide office space at below-market rental rates, the tenants can share the cost of office equipment and services such as utilities, clerical and secretarial services.

Once a long range business plan has been developed, the entrepreneur can elect to be housed in the incubator facility, or (s)he may choose to work from home or another location. Either arrangement allows the entrepreneur to access the services of the incubator. The primary difference of being located in the facility is the subsidized rental rates.

The incubator can only be successful if it is welcomed and supported by the community. Business owners from the community will need to share time and expertise with the new entrepreneurs.

Belle Glade residents to see small decrease in property taxes

By Brenda Bunting
Editor

Granted, the decrease is slight, but Belle Glade residents will see a lower city property tax bill this year.

City Commissioners and staff met Tuesday night to hammer out details in the city's 1995-96 budget and approved a millage rate of 9.2093, down from last year's 9.4632. This would mean that a homeowner in Belle Glade with a home valued at $75,000 and a homestead exemption of $25,000 would pay 2.7 percent less taxes this year, or about $13 less on their tax bill.

"I can't remember seeing this in a long time," said Mayor Steve Weeks. "This is the leanest budget we've seen in years."

Despite the decrease in taxes, the city managed to give city employees a five percent pay raise and increase police officer's salaries for overtime. They will also be given vacation time equal to other city employees. Their police pension benefits were increased one half of one percent from 2.0 percent to 2.5 percent retroactive to one year ago when the city and police officers reached an impasse during union negotiations.

City Commissioners were also offered a $500 a year increase in salary, but three of the five commissioners voted against the pay raise. "I can't agree to this. I didn't take this job to make a lot of money," said Commissioner Crate "Happy" Tucker. "I took it to serve the citizens. I would rather see this money go into the budget to pay for other things."

Director of Finance David Wood said the city's budget is about $19 million this year, up about one million dollars from last year.

The city will see extra money from increases in sewer rates and a decreased police and fire department budget. Rental fees at the Belle Glade Marina will also be increased from $72 a week to $80 per week. "This is a nominal increase," said City Manager Lomax Harrelle.

The budget also includes $100,000 for street repairs and $25,000 for sidewalk repairs.

South Florida Water Management District wants to increase ad valorem taxes

By Nancy Owens
Clewiston News Reporter

The South Florida Water Management District (SFWMD) is wanting to increase taxes for residents in Palm Beach, Glades, Okeechobee and Hendry Counties. Unfortunately for South Florida citizens, however, there is no governing board set up to make certain the ad valorem tax increases are even needed.

As Commission of Agriculture, Bob Crawford said to the Water Review Commission, whose task it is for legislative recommendation on what the future water policy should be, "Agriculture and other major user groups deserve to be at the table when water policy, planning and regulatory programs are being considered."

Twenty years ago Senator Phil Lewis, recognizing Florida needed water management, ran a bill through the Florida Legislature, The Florida Water Resources Act of 1972, which paved the way for the Constitutional Amendment creating the original framework for the five Florida water districts. It also expanded the responsibilities of the Florida Control District (FCD), which had been created in 1949 to act as the local sponsor for a project by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. The project would, over the following decades, design and build a vast network of levees, canals and other improved waterways, and water control structures designed to help manage the often unpredictable weather extremes of the region.

"Phil Lewis" stated Commissioner Crawford, "showed tremendous foresight, knowing that Florida needed water management." However, according to Commissioner Crawford, the time has come to examine the authority, and the scope and structure of the districts. He suggested that the Florida Legislature create a Florida Water Commission, composed of nine individuals, one appointed by each of the elected Cabinet officers, the Speaker of the House, and the President of the Senate, with the Governor's appointee serving as chairman. The appointees would represent the major users of water in the state including the general public, agriculture, industry, and environmental concerns.

The reason Commissioner Crawford says he thinks this is so important is because the SFWMD, currently budgeted at $293.1 million, has the power to unilaterally increase the property taxes they levy by some $460 million, or 165 percent, without the approval of voters or their elected representatives.

According to Terence McElroy, public administrator for the Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, this is recorded in the Florida Statutes. The SFWMD's taxing jurisdiction includes all or part of 16 counties, spanning from Orlando to Key West, with a population of more than five million and a total area of 117,990 square miles. SFWMD states that its boundaries are based on the "natural, hydrologic basins rather than political, county limits to allow for more efficient water resource management."

The 1995-96 budget is currently being set at $340,916,974 or .713 millage with approval expected to be decided during a public hearing set for Sept. 27 in West Palm Beach.

Last year's millage was .597 which meant that a home, assessed at $125,000 Homestead Exemption, or $100,000 in taxable value, paid $59.70 in ad valorem taxes. The newest proposal, as of Aug. 10, will now cost the same homeowner $71.30.

However, the SFWMD states

Ball lightning can be spectacular and frightening

By Mike Lyons

"It was a bright, glowing orange ball about the size of a basketball," said the excited man. "It entered my house through the glass in the front door. It went right past me or possibly even through me into the living room. Then, it left the house through a large window where it hit a tree in the backyard, causing some minor damage."

What was this strange sight? A visitor from another planet? The creation of an over active imagination? What the man probably saw was one of the rarest forms of lightning. It's called ball lightning.

For centuries, the strange appearance and bizarre behavior of ball lightning has scared the pants off folks. The luminous orbs, which can be as small as a marble or as big as a basketball, seem to appear out of thin air.

There have been hundreds of reports of ball lightning inside buildings, often entering through an open door or window, even coming down the chimney like a glowing Santa Claus.

Other reports cite witnesses who say the lightning came through solid walls and electrical outlets. One ball of fire reportedly rolled down a hall while another dropped into a bucket of water allegedly heating it to boiling. There have been accounts of ball lightning appearing inside metal airplanes while in flight.

These glowing balls, whose color varies from red to orange all the way to blue and white, usually wander around a room for a few seconds as if it was checking out the wallpaper pattern. Then, just as suddenly as it appeared, it's gone, typically with a loud bang.

Gone but certainly not forgotten. While a lightning flash is a common sight, particularly here in Florida, scientists estimate that only one percent of the population will see ball lightning. For that one percent, ball lightning is a sight they will never forget.

And, it may be a phenomenon that science may never explain. Russian physicist Pyotr Kapitsa certainly tried. For years, Kapitsa examined hundreds of reports and interviewed dozens of witnesses who claimed to have seen ball lightning.

Kapitsa concluded that ball lightning did exist. He thought the balls of fire were made of ionized atoms that somehow were stimulated by radio waves that created the glowing light.

Some scientists have been able to produce something that looks like ball lightning in the laboratory using microwave radiation. But, the balls of fire disappear as soon as the power is turned off.

Despite the efforts of Kapitsa and a lot of really smart people, no one has been able to explain how ball lightning forms, why it seems to stick around for a relatively long time, why it likes to appear inside enclosed places and why it doesn't cause significant damage when it hits something.

What we do know is that ball lightning is real. Other than that it remains a mystery.

The "Trough" attitude
By Paula Swaford, R.N.

Have you ever asked yourself where your attitudes are formed? Psychiatrists have long embraced the theories of nature/nurture, and we are aware that all of us have ideas and attitudes influenced not only by our ancestors but also by our environment.

How, then, do we decide how our attitudes will be? Some societies reverse older people...America does not, in general, respect and cater to the elders of our land.

Sure they receive "senior discounts" at large restaurant chains, and don't forget they get to collect the big bucks of Social Security, and Medicare, but have you tried living on a "fixed income" at, or just above, poverty level for years and years?

How do our young people learn to treat the old? Here is a scenario that may make you re-evaluate your attitude about the elderly around you. Once upon a time there was a little old man. His eyes blinked and his hands trembled. When he ate, he clattered the silverware distressingly, often missed his mouth with the spoon, and dribbled a bit of his food on the tablecloth.

Now he lived with his married son, having nowhere else to live, and his son's wife was a young woman who knew that in-law should not be tolerated in an offspring's house. "I can't have this," she exclaimed, "It interferes with a woman's right to privacy and happiness."

So, she and her husband took the little old man gently but firmly by the arm and led him to the corner of the kitchen. There they set him on a stool and gave him his food, what there was of it, in a pottery bowl.

From then on he always ate in the corner, blinking at the table with wistful eyes. One day his hands trembled rather more than usual, and the earthenware bowl fell and broke.

"If you are a pig," said the daughter-in-law "you must eat out of a trough." So they made him a little wooden trough and he got his meals in that way.

These people had a four-year-old son of whom they were very fond. One suppers time the young man noticed his boy playing intently with some bits of wood and asked what he was doing. "I'm making a trough," he said, smiling up for approval, "to feed you and mama out of when I get big."

The man and his wife looked at each other for awhile and did not say a word. Then they cried. And then they went to the corner and took the little old man by the arm and led him back to the table.

They sat him in a comfortable chair and gave him his food on a plate, and from then on nobody ever scolded when he clattered or spilled or broke things.

When we tend to lose patience with those older and wiser than ourselves, perhaps we should stop and realize that, barring death, ALL of us will be there one day.

How interesting it is to sit and talk and remember with an older person; how rich and full their lives have been; the stories they have to tell can't be found in the daily news; the cherished memories are still as fresh as if they had happened yesterday.

Enrich your own life...listen to an older person, have respect and high regard for their wisdom and it just might rub off on you.

Until next time...stay informed and stay healthy.

Sarah Josepha Hale, the most famous magazine editor in the U.S. during the 1800s was instrumental in persuading President Lincoln to make Thanksgiving a national holiday and was also the author of "Mary Had A Little Lamb."

We must learn to live together as brothers or perish together as fools.

The big one that didn't get away...Troy Tyler with his 692 pound Pacific Blue Marlin.

Belle Glade man catches 692 pound Marlin

Local angler, Troy Tyler, recently reeled in a 692 pound Pacific Blue Marlin while vacationing in Kona, Hawaii.

"This is the biggest fish yet," said Troy, who said he hopes his good luck continues and he might catch an even bigger fish on his next trip.

Troy and his wife, Renee, had a reunion with her sister, Kim, and brother-in-law Dave Sterk of Pennsylvania recently, and also celebrated their wedding anniversary. Dave also reeled in a 198 pound Marlin on 50 pound test line, his first big fish.

Troy said he attributes his big catch to the skill of Capt. Rob Purdy. He said the captain offers quality vacation adventures.

that it has goals to meet in the management of water and other related resources for the benefit of the public and in keeping with the needs of the region.

The SFWMD wants to hire 26 scientific and engineering personnel for the different projects. Due to pressure over the request for increased ad valorem taxes and lack of accountability, however, the SFWMD may have to seek alternative ways to meet their needs.

"Many people in the districts are excellent and many of their policies have been good, but the time has come for reexamination and incorporation of the checks and balances we as Americans have come to expect in all areas of government," states Commissioner Crawford.

"I recommend that all Water Management District executive directors face the Senate reconfirmation process just as other non-elected officials do every four years. Currently, the directors are confirmed once and then can remain in office forever without any review.

To summarize, water management is critical for Florida. I strongly feel that the water management districts must have greater accountability, more legislative oversight, remain within their statutory authority and closely coordinate with each other for consistency.

A mechanism should be created for outside rule review. An adequate system of checks and balances must be enacted."

An appeal to the concerned taxpayer

"I would like to have assistance from the author of the July 13, 1995 Speak Out article 'Taxpayer rip off'."

This article represents its author has information relating to the theft of some computer equipment from the Belle Glade Elementary School. The author of this article alleged that an employee at the school center sold one of the school's computers to a person who works for a prominent doctor in Belle Glade.

I am a police officer assigned to the School Police Department's Division of Internal Affairs. I am currently attempting to sustain the allegations that were reflected in the July 13, 1995 article with the intent of recovering the stolen computer equipment and returning the same to the children of Belle Glade.

This theft and other types of official misconduct can be prevented if the community refuses to be indifferent. I ask that the author of the article, 'Taxpayer rip off?' contact me at this toll-free number, 930-8402, extension 48423. Thanks!

"I just want to thank Mr. Raymond Plank and Commissioner Ken Foster's office for responding so quickly to the complaint about moving the bike path on Airport Road.

We hope someday soon this path will be repaved, because it really needs it, but for now, we are grateful to be listened to and helped so promptly.

Again, thanks!"

Officer deserves his job back

"I wanted to respond to the article (Aug. 17, front page) about the officer who was fired from

Belle Glade Police Department.

I feel that it was ludicrous as far as the police department and Health and Rehabilitative Services.

There are multitudes of teenage girls, 12 and 13 years old, who are pregnant and have children and nothing is done with the father of the child.

This to me is a disgrace as far as Belle Glade is concerned and I think this thing needs to be reconsidered because the officer who was involved, he did a fantastic job. It appears he had feelings for this girl and the mother consented about it.

To me, it's an invasion of privacy, and I think everyone in this town should speak out about this situation. I know this certain individual and there was no harm intended.

He deserves his job and position back and people need to leave people alone, because our constitution, as far as I'm concerned, the first and fourth amendment has been violated.

Thank you.

Chief Michael R. Miller responds: "I empathize with the family and friends of the terminated officer, however, rules promulgated by the Florida Department of Law Enforcement, Division of Police Standards and Training, and sound judgment required me to make a difficult decision and I stand by that decision."

University of Florida trains teachers to teach bike safety to students

By Laurel D. Ponjuan
University of Florida News and Public Affairs

Hoping to prevent Florida from again leading the nation in bicycle and pedestrian fatalities, the University of Florida is training educators to teach bicycle safety to elementary and middle-school children.

"Children face a greater likelihood of death or disability through traffic-related injuries than from any other cause," said Linda Crider, UF research associate and project director for the Florida Traffic and Bicycle Safety Education Program.

"Bicycle and pedestrian fatalities account for more deaths among children ages 5-9 than drugs, drownings, homicide or abductions combined," she added.

"One reason for the high number of bike accidents is that many students consider a bike a toy, said Margaret Raynal, state trainer for the program. "They don't realize it's a serious mode of transportation."

"This program teaches children what many parents don't," Ms. Raynal said. "If parents don't know bike laws, they can't teach them to their children. That's why we train educators how to teach children to be predictable and competent in traffic," she said.

"UF is the ideal institution to coordinate this program," said Dan Burden, state bicycle and pedestrian coordinator for the Florida Department of Transportation, which is funding the effort.

"It was chosen because it has one of the better education programs in the state," Mr. Burden said. "UF also has an expanding research base and provides academic credibility to the program."

Workshop participants receive curriculum materials and advice on how to adapt the principles to suit the needs of their students. Ms. Raynal said, "We also provide on-bike instruction and helmet and bicycle fitting."

"Since 1992, we've trained more than 900 educators, law enforcement personnel and recreational leaders in 26 counties," she said. "Part of the training includes effective methods for teaching children how to stop and search, the proper way to leave a driveway, equipment safety checks and emergency maneuvering."

The Florida Department of Transportation developed the program 14 years ago and has funded the program at UF for the past four years.

The annual grant, which ranges from $114,000 to $160,000 each year, covers training expenses, curriculum materials, two full-time positions at UF and mini-grants to school districts for equipment. Other aspects of the program include efforts to improve bike safety on the UF campus and in the city of Gainesville.

Pets may experience anxiety when moving to a new home

By Jill Thorold
The Pet Practice

Moving to a new home during the summer is exciting for everyone in the family, but there is one family member who may find the move dramatic, frightening, and confusing. Whether you have a dog, cat, puppy, or kitten, we advise the following easy steps to reduce pet anxiety when relocating to a new home:

- Take your pet to visit the new home before the actual move to familiarize them with the area.
- Walk your dog through the neighborhood as soon as possible.
- Pet proof your backyard immediately so your pet can safely play without supervision. Make sure the yard is free of poisonous weeds or plants, deep/ground holes, or sharp fence openings.
- Be certain that your new home is free of fleas and ticks. The previous home owners may have had pets with fleas or ticks.
- Before moving into the new home, designate an area for your pet to sleep and show him this area as soon as you enter the home. Placing a favorite blanket or toy in this spot will help your pet feel more at ease.
- Designate an area for your pet to eat and show him this area soon after entering the home.
- Try not to leave your pet alone in the house the first few days. Some pets may panic if left alone the first couple of days after the move.

Pets may exhibit strange behaviors after they move, according to Randy Pinkleton, DVM and area vice president of the Pet Practice Florida. "Dogs and cats may pace often and have trouble getting comfortable," said Mr. Pinkleton. "Dogs and cats may also try to run from the new property and may defecate and urinate in the house."

Mr. Pinkleton says that the best remedy for pets having difficulty adjusting to their new homes is a lot of tender loving care.

The Pet Practice also suggest that pet owners consider the following issues when moving to a new neighborhood:

- Seek a new veterinarian and veterinary hospital prior to moving in and also locate a 24-hour hospital in case of an emergency. Moving to a new home is one of the most common reasons that pet owners change veterinary hospitals, according to the American Animal Hospitals' Association.
- Obtain a new pet owner license in the county you've moved into.
- Check with your city officials if there is a leash law in your neighborhood and for other pet rules and regulations.

The Pet Practice operates six veterinary hospitals in Florida and in total owns and operates 65 veterinary hospitals in eight states including Michigan, Illinois, Indiana, Delaware, Maryland, West Virginia, Ohio, and Florida.

I see a crossing guard about a quarter of a mile down from Gove, but she doesn't direct the traffic.
There's something wrong somewhere. Could you please answer my question?

Chief Miller responds: Thank you for allowing me once again to set the record straight.

- 1) There are no police officers assigned to direct traffic on Glades Day School property.
- 2) There are no school teachers who are directing traffic on city right-of-way in front of Gove Elementary.
- 3) Airport Road is a heavily traveled roadway that is currently under construction, furthermore, Airport Road provides access to Sugar Cane Growers Cooperative and Quaker Oats, two of our major employers that generate a lot of traffic.
- 4) Gove Elementary transferred 300 students to the new Pioneer Park Elementary, therefore, traffic at Gove Elementary is significantly reduced.

5) I have been informed that the teachers are assigned to bus duty and parents pickup and have no teaching responsibilities during this time period and if there were 10 police officers or 10,000 police officers assigned to direct traffic at Gove Elementary these same teachers will continue to have these same assignments.

6) Teachers at Glades Day School have bus and parent pickup duties also.

7) For your information, there is one police officer assigned to direct traffic on Airport Road in front of Glades Day School, one officer assigned to monitor traffic at Gove Elementary and Belle Glade Elementary, one officer to monitor traffic at Lake Shore Elementary and Gladeview Elementary, and "two officers assigned to direct traffic on State Road 715 for Glades Central High School and Pioneer Park Elementary School.

8) Let me state that I am indeed sensitive to the needs of all our community schools, the children, parents, and staff of these facilities. I am particularly sensitive of Gove Elementary because my wife, Kathy, is the school secretary at Gove Elementary and I can assure you she keeps me informed of all their needs concerning public safety.

In addition to these responsibilities, unfortunately, criminal activity and calls for police services must be addressed. It is my responsibility to prioritize our public safety calls for services and to assign our limited resources to their most effective use.

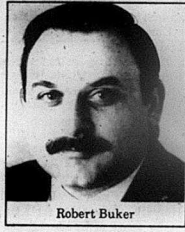

If the caller had been more observant they might have noticed the chief of police and his senior staff monitoring these school zones especially during the first week of school.

If anyone has any additional questions or comments relating to this matter or any matter of mutual interest, I invite them to contact me at 407-996-7270 or at my home at 407-996-4026. Thank you!

Sugar producers say consumers won't see savings if sugar prices drop

Robert Buker

The call for elimination of the government sugar support program is a cynical political ploy that totally ignores the interests of consumers and plays into the hands of the giant multinational food companies, according to Florida's largest producer of sugar cane.

Robert Buker, senior vice president of United States Sugar Corporation, based in Clewiston, said "Americans already pay less, not more, for sugar than consumers in virtually every developed country in the world."

"The leaders of the Public Voice for Food and Health Policy have put their political agenda ahead of the interests of consumers," said Mr. Buker. "For them to suggest that elimination of the sugar program would lower retail sugar prices even further and reduce America's food bill, they must ignore the lessons of recent history, the realities of the food market, the law of supply and demand, and the federal government's own data," he said.

"U.S. Department of Agriculture and Bureau of Labor Statistics data show that even though the price of sugar has actually fallen by 5.8 percent in the past five years, the cost of food products containing sugar has increased.

According to the government data, during this period the price of candy rose 9.6 percent, cookies went up 17 percent, the price of ice cream increased by 7.3 percent, and cereal prices are up a whopping 22.3 percent.

"Except for the price of a bag of sugar, at about 39 cents on supermarket shelves, consumers have not seen a penny of savings from food companies as the price of sugar has fallen," said Mr. Buker. "Lower sugar prices have only meant greater profits for Coca Cola, Mars, Hershey, Nabisco, General Foods and the other food companies and cereal makers," he said.

"The real opponents of the American sugar program are not the public, but these giant industrial sugar users," said Mr. Buker, noting that with less than two cents of sugar in a Snickers bar or a Coke, consumers won't see any savings if sugar prices fall. "It's the giant food companies, many of which have financial resources greater than some countries, who will pocket the savings," he said.

"The people at Public Voice know consumers aren't going to see lower prices. But they're willing to sacrifice the interests of consumers and workers to advance their political agenda," stated Mr. Buker.

"In the process, however, they are playing right into the hands of the giant food companies who stand to profit at the expense of consumers and the 420,000 workers in 42 states who depend on the American sugar industry," he said.

Even the savings projected by Public Voice for a bag of sugar are flawed, according to the industry spokesmen, because it's based on the difference between the American price and the price of surplus sugar in the world market.

The often-quoted world price represents the price of sugar dumped at less than the cost of production by foreign governments who subsidize their farmers. Because the world market consists of only subsidized, surplus sugar, the price is currently relatively low.

"Public Voice naively believes, despite the laws of supply and demand, that this price will remain low even when the U.S. steps in to buy as much as nine million tons of sugar," said Mr. Buker.

But, he noted, the last times the American sugar program lapsed, in 1974 and 1980, world sugar prices soared from less than 25 cents to 60 and 40 cents, respectively.

Sugar shortages then popped up in supermarkets and the prices of soft drinks, ice cream, baked goods, candy and breakfast cereal skyrocketed, never to come down, even when the sugar program was restored and sugar prices fell.

The soft drink industry fondly remembers those events as the beginning of "an era of high profitability," according to their own trade association president.

"The elimination of the sugar program in 1974 and 1980 produced no bargains for consumers, and it wouldn't in 1995 either," he said. "But if Public Voice gets its way, Americans can once again see their food budgets soar and American jobs exported to subsidized foreign industries."

"With friends like the Public Voice for Food & Health Policy, American consumers don't need any enemies," stated Mr. Buker.

United States Sugar Corporation is an employee-owned diversified agricultural company.

Novay completes Army course

Marine Pfc. Ernie Novay, son of Emilio and Gladys Novay of 1381 Wedgewood Road, Belle Glade, recently completed the Small Arms Repair Course at the U.S. Army's Aberdeen Proving Ground in Maryland.

During the course, Novay learned how to operate, inspect, maintain and repair rifles, pistols, shotguns, submachine guns, grenade launchers, mortars and other automatic weapons. Novay also studied how to prepare weapons for shipment and storage, and related safety precautions. With his newly acquired skills, Novay is now ready to work at a military base army, providing weapons support to troops deploying for exercises and operations.

As a graduate of the Small Arms Repair Course, Novay demonstrates his tremendous ability to excel in a fighting force of more than 160,000 Marine Corps men and women. Whether assigned to ships, squadrons or shore commands around the world, men and women like Novay are making a difference as they work to improve their knowledge and skill as part of the most highly technical naval force in history.

The 1993 graduates of Glade Central High School joined the Marine Corps in December 1994.

Local girl scouts gear up for new troop year

With the new school year at hand, more than 10,000 Girl Scouts throughout Palm Glades Girl Scout Council's 6 1/2 county jurisdiction are trading in their bunting suits for badges and sashes as the new Girl Scout troop year gets underway this month.

Palm Glades Girl Scout Council's membership drive is in full swing throughout Palm Beach, Martin, St. Lucie, Indian River, Glades, Hendry and Okeechobee Counties for girls ages 5-17 and adult volunteers. Girl Scout membership dues are $6 annually.

Girl Scouting offers a wide range of activities such as community service projects, a nationwide health and fitness project, troop camping, Volksmarch and many other fun events.

"Through Girl Scouts contemporary program, girls make new friends, provide community service, learn outdoor skills, and develop self-esteem helping them become caring, resourceful citizens of tomorrow," said Sandra Patton, executive director of Palm Glades

Girl Scout Council.

Adults are also encouraged to register as Girl Scout members and can serve Girl Scouting in a number of capacities. Girl Scout troop leaders, consultants, fund developers, communications coordinators and guest speakers are just some of the many volunteer positions available to both men and women.

For additional information about Girl Scouting, please contact a Palm Glades Girl Scout Council at a United Way agency, at (407) 582-5382.

Pahokee hosts 4th Annual Big "O" Hike

This year's 4th Annual Lake Okeechobee Big "O" Hike will begin on Saturday, Nov. 18 from the Pahokee Campground on the south east side of Lake Okeechobee. It will end 9 days and 107 miles later on Nov. 26 back at Pahokee. Participants will do a complete counter clockwise circle on the Hoover Dike around Lake Okeechobee.

The hike is unique in that anyone can participate. Hikers can do the first day's "Wimp" walk which is only three miles. You can ride or walk back to the start or you can do the entire first day's hike of 12 miles with available return transportation. From this starting point it's an alca carte menu. Do you want to do a day? A weekend? Three days? Or the entire hike? You can join in at any time, any day, any segment. The choice is yours.

This event will be sanctioned by the State of Florida as part of the state's sesquicentennial (150 year) celebration. With Lake Okeechobee so conveniently located to most of Florida, everyone is invited to join. This hike has become an annual event, a happening, something to be, a place to meet old friends and make new ones. The first year, 1992, 20 showed up for the start. The next year 100 hikers started. Last year 170 went through the gate the first day. We expect the numbers to grow each year and there's room for everyone.

It's an easy hike. All you need is a funny cap with lunch or snacks and a water. The heavy equipment is left in your vehicles, campgrounds or motels. The only down side to increased participation is that hikers might have to make reservations to use the hot tub and swimming pool while they rough it at the local KOA.

One of the highlights of the week is Thanksgiving dinner at the Clewiston Inn which is in the city of Clewiston, on the southern edge of the lake. Built in 1936 by U.S. Sugar, it retains the charm and traditions of the old south.

Pahokee Agriculture teacher wins Conservation Teacher of the Year Award

The Florida Association of Conservation Districts recognized Pahokee Middle / Senior High School Vocational Agriculture teacher Arthur Eve as the Florida Conservation Teacher of the Year.

This award is a component of the Conservation Education Recognition Program, a nationwide program sponsored by the National Association of Conservation Districts and Zeneca Ag Products.

The purpose of this awards program is to create an awareness and appreciation of the value of conservation education and to stimulate efforts by teachers to advance the wise use, protection, and enhancement of the nation's soil, water, and related resources.

Arthur Eve grew up on a small farm near Corydon, Indiana. However, his career path did not lead him straight into teaching agriculture. He graduated from Kentucky State Teachers' College with a Bachelor of Arts Degree in Music, and then earned a Master's in Secondary Education from Indiana University. For 28 years, Mr. Eve taught band, choir, general music, art, and drama in Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky and Florida. Only in 1990, while a teacher at Pahokee Middle/Senior High School, he began teaching agriculture. Since that time, the students at Pahokee have created a butterfly garden, replicas of Florida ecosystems, and an aviary. They have assembled and maintain an indoor tilapia farm, hydroponics, a field crop area, a citrus grove and a weather station. Soon they will launch a pilot project called Kids For Composting in cooperation with the Palm Beach Soil and Water Conservation District, with funding from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency. In addition to projects on the school grounds, the students are involved in a variety of community programs and contests, including the Envirothon, the Florida Youth Environmental Summit, and the Adopt-A-Road program.

In 1993, Mr. Eve created an advisory council of local growers and business leaders to guide the agriculture program. Mr. Eve's list of accomplishments includes nominations in 1992, 1993, and 1994 by his fellow teachers for the Dwyer Award, for which he was a finalist in 1995.

Conservation Teacher of the Year... Arthur Eve, Agriculture teacher at Pahokee High School, was awarded a plaque for his efforts to create awareness and appreciation of the value of conservation education by the Florida Association of Conservation District.

The Gold Coast Gardener; Prepare for Fall gardening

People that are interested in vegetable gardening now are getting underway for the fall planting season. Home vegetable gardening is one of the most popular pastimes in our area, and if you are thinking about getting vegetables going for the upcoming season, now is the time to get started.

Most vegetable gardens here are planted in the early fall and carried through until about April when it becomes too hot and uncomfortable for many people to continue trying to garden. South Florida farmers also have been busy with many already having much of their crops planted for the upcoming season.

If you are thinking about gardening, here are some tips to help you to be more successful. In selecting a garden site try and pick areas that get as much sunlight as possible, preferably all day long. If you have to choose between a site that has morning site versus afternoon sun, pick the site that has morning sun. The reason for this is that morning sun dries off plants more quickly keeping them more disease free.

Don't put gardens in poorly drained locations. Most vegetables are very intolerant of being flooded even for very brief periods and you should always select high ground for gardens or plant on raised beds with adequate ditching or other drainage provided.

Don't put vegetables close to nearby trees and shrubs. The roots from these larger plants quickly invade the area around vegetables and compete for water and fertilizer.

When putting out gardens, make sure that you prepare the site thoroughly before the garden is planted. Most gardens do much better in an area which has had the soil amended with generous amounts of peat moss, manure, compost, or top soil. Most vegetables if planted in poor soil grow slowly and produce very small amounts of vegetables.

Local gardens stores now have their fall vegetable seeds in stock, and if you are planting the garden from seed, make sure you select seeds from local sources. Many times seeds ordered through mail order catalogs are types that are not well suited for local soils and climate and these as a rule do very poorly. By buying seeds or transplants from local sources, you can be assured that these are types that are better suited for our local conditions.

If you have only a small garden, often buying transplants which are readily available at local garden stores are much better than starting from seed since much of the seed will not be used. Also by buying transplants you can get plants already in some cases several weeks old and get a head start on the gardening season if you started later.

Many people also like to contain garden and container gardening is becoming very popular for people in condominiums, apartments, or other areas where they don't have much outside growing space. When gardening in containers make sure that you use a large enough container that the vegetable can grow to its mature size without being stunted or root bound.

Use good quality potting soil or topsoil so that the vegetable can grow and produce to its optimum potential and make sure that container vegetables are fertilized and watered on a regular basis according to the plant's needs.

In all garden pests and diseases may become a major threat during the gardening season. It's recommended that daily inspections be made of gardens so that pests or disease problems can be identified early when controlling them is more practical. If you wish not to use pesticides in your garden, it is essential that you give the garden frequent inspections to remove unwanted pests.

In outside gardens weeds can also be a major threat to your garden. The use of a mulch three to four inches deep in the garden is recommended to help reduce weed competition, shade the soil and conserve water loss. Mulches can be things generated in your own landscape such as leaves, grass, clippings, or other materials, or you can buy ornamental mulch and place it in the garden.

If you are a good gardener and raise larger than normal vegetables, you may wish to think about entering them in the annual South Florida Fair's Largest Vegetable Contest which will be coming up on January 12, 1996. Each year the fair has a lot of entries in this popular event and it doesn't cost anything to enter. Simply bring your vegetable to the fairgrounds between 10 a.m. and 12 noon on opening day, Friday, January 12, and have it weighed and see how it stacks up against the competition. Top prizes are $200 and there is a youth and an adult division. For more information about the largest vegetable contest, contact the South Florida Fair at 407-793-0333 or the Palm Beach County Cooperative Extension Service at 233-1759.

If you've tried vegetable gardening in the past and haven't been very successful, usually whatever you are doing wrong can be identified and corrected. For expert assistance in all types of vegetable garden problems, contact the Palm Beach County Extension Service master gardeners for free advice. The phone numbers are 233-1750 in the north and central county area, or 276-1260 in the south county area.

The Extension Service also has a number of free publications dealing with vegetable gardens and these can be picked up at their local offices during normal business hours.

"Olde Towne Hall Sweep"

Proving his interest in this project is Chamber member / resident Larry Wright. "This is something I feel very strongly about. I have been here every day for almost a year. This is my home away from home. Right now we are working on the cleanup stage of the project and we are remodeling the cafeteria in hopes of maybe renting it out as a banquet hall for parties, etc." said Mr. Wright.

The Old High School Committee hopes their effort raise matching funds will show their good faith and make the Historic Preservation Committee more inclined to grant the funds.

To date, the committee has sponsored a Celebrity Car Wash "starring" elected city officials, promoted stationery depicting the school, and accepted pledges and donations ranging from $300 to $10.

The turnout for "The Olde Towne Hall Sweep" consisted of the following: Chairman Judy Gallo, Ted Gallo, Co-Chairman Cyndy Williams, City Commissioner Keith Babb, City Manager Ken Schenck, Wayne Boynton, Robbie Everett, JoAnn Law, Ken Law, Larry Wright, Dot VanLandingham and Eric Turasz.

"The sweep was successful," said Chamber worker Dot VanLandingham. "We completed cleaning all of the rooms with exception of one room, where the roof is so bad we were unsure if it was safe to stay in there."

The long-term goals are to use and incorporate the Old 1928 Pahokee High School building into the mainstream of "Olde Towne" with public markers containing historical data. The mid-term goals are to convert the building into an "Olde Towne Hall" and use it primarily for city offices. The short-term goals are to take care of immediate needs - new roof, storm shutters, and other necessary repairs, so that the restoration project can begin.

The Old High School Committee hopes to accomplish these goals through grants and fund raisers. The strategies will involve a network of resources, including alumni, adult service groups, and youth organizations.

Background on the building, taken from The Ocean Almanac is as follows: Lake Okeechobee, Florida - September 12-17, 1928. From 2,500 to 4,000 people were killed when an Atlantic hurricane struck at Lake Okeechobee, northwest of West Palm Beach, Florida, and destroyed over 20 miles of mud dikes around the lake. Lake Okeechobee's hurricane-driven waters overflowed, pounding buildings to pieces for miles around and drowning their inhabitants. The oddest of deaths occurred when people escaping from the flood climbed trees, only to reach the top and die of snakebite from poisonous water moccasins that had also taken refuge there. There was more than 25 billion dollars in property damage. The tragedy led to the building two years later of an 85-mile-long, 38-foot-high rock dike around the lake, which has been contained since then.

LIFE; accepting applications for volunteer youth awards

Leaders In Furthering Education (LIFE), announced today that it is accepting applications from community youth volunteers who have worked to make a difference in their communities and in the lives of others. Spearheaded by philanthropist Lois Pope and a board of directors, this non-profit organization will be choosing outstanding young people who have completed volunteer work with a local charity and rewarding them with a $10,000 cash gift (paid at age 18) intended for the purpose of furthering that individual's education. The volunteer's school and charity each also benefit with a $5,000 gift.

A young person can be nominated by another individual or can self-nominate. The winning selections will be based on the following: the nominee must be engaged in some form of community service as a volunteer, helping people within their community; show commitment above and beyond, with no expectations of reward; completed the volunteerism within the past 12 months; and, be a full-time student in Palm Beach County between 6 and twelfth grade. The award winners will be announced at LIFE's Gala on Saturday, November 25, 1995, at the Ritz-Carlton, Palm Beach.

LIFE is a non-profit organization that seeks to reward and encourage young people who put extraordinary effort into helping others. LIFE is guided by firm beliefs that today's youth are our most valuable resource, and that learning from hands-on charitable opportunities is an important and lasting way to educate, motivate and improve community life.

Deadline for applications is November 1, 1995. For more information or for an application, please call (407) 547-9307 or send a SASE to: LIFE, 252 South Ocean Boulevard, Manalapan, 33462.

GFC cancels Everglade hunts to protect deer herds

The Florida Game and Fresh Water Fish Commission (GFC) has cancelled the 1995 deer hunting season in the Everglades after surveys indicated up to an 80 percent decline in the white-tailed deer population.

The closure applies to the Everglades and Francis S. Taylor Wildlife Management Area in western Dade, Broward and Palm Beach counties which totals 672,831 acres. 4

The areas will remain open during duck, coot and snipe seasons as scheduled unless the water levels rise dramatically. Fishing and frogging will also be unaffected.

The closed areas include Water Management Area 3B, Water Conservation Area 3A South, Water Conservation Area 3A North, Water Conservation Area 2B, and Water Conservation Area 2A.

Archery hunting in the area was scheduled to begin Aug. 26th, said Jim Schuette, wildlife biologist in the GFC's Everglades Region. He said the closure was necessary because the deer population had been seriously impacted by the highest water levels in 30 years.

"The Everglades deer herd was reduced significantly as a result of last year's high water condition," Mr. Schuette said.

The population index decreased from 1,155 deer in 1994 to 130 deer in 1995.

Three wildlife management areas in southwest Palm Beach County were less affected by the high water, and most hunting seasons on these sites will open as scheduled, according to Mr. Schuette.

The Rotenberger Wildlife Management Area and the Brown's Farm Wildlife Management Area will open without change. The Holey Land, Wildlife Management Area will be open except during General Gun Vehicle Hunt slated for Nov. 4 thru Nov. 19.

"The Holey Land Gun Vehicle Hunt is cancelled because of the low deer population in the area and high water," Schuette said. "The area is just too wet to hunt from vehicles."

The high water situation began in the summer of 1994, according to Mr. Schuette. Water levels were up by three to four feet, prompting the GFC to close the entire Everglades and Francis S. Taylor Wildlife Management Area on Sept. 29, 1994.

"High water isolated white-tailed deer and other upland wildlife on the remaining high ground where they quickly exhausted the forage," Mr. Schuette said. "There was a massive die-off of deer from starvation and many weakened animals fell victim to predators such as bobcat and alligators."

"Our biologists counted 159 dead deer from when the closure began on Sept. 29, 1994 until it was lifted on April 1, 1995," he said. "This represents only a small portion of the deer that died during this period."

Thirteen-year-old Mullins has potential

By Biffie Chapman
Staff Writer

Thirteen-year-old Johnnie Mullins knows how to run fast. He's so confident of his speed, he once told a coach he could out run him.

Johnnie, son of Vivian and Johnnie Mullins of Pahokee, has competed in several track competitions this summer.

Track coach/trainer Tim Abrams, of Lakeshore Middle School, said, "The first day of track practice, Johnny didn't show up for practice. He kept telling me he could out-run me so I told him to show up and try-out for track. He then competed in the middle school relays and competitions for our school."

Peter Gelb, founder and coach of the Kix Track Club of Palm Beach Gardens also Head coach for Suncoast High School, discovered Johnnie at the middle school relays where he was an official, in charge of timing the races. He saw the potential in the 13 year-old boy and invited him to join his club.

Johnnie has proved he can run with the best. He has a record of three gold medals and one silver medal in the state level of competition and four bronze medals at the national level of competition in the Under 14 (Youth) division for the 100 meter and 200 meter dash.

"Johnnie is a tremendously talented athlete and a gifted student, with a grade point average of 3.8," said Coach Gelb. Teammate David Gelb, who competed in the Under 12 (Youth) division for the 1500 run-walk, won two gold medals in the state competition and two bronze medals in the national competition. Teammate Trevor McGuire, who competed in the Under 10 (Youth) division for the 1500 run-walk, won two gold medals in state competition and one silver and one bronze medal in national competition.

On July 15-16, 1995, Johnnie Mullins, David Gelb and Trevor McGuire traveled to Gainesville to compete in the USA Track Sunshine State Games, then on July 22-23, the trio moved forward to compete in the AAU (Amateur Athletic Union) Junior Olympics in Melbourne. On July 25-31, the trio traveled to the USA Track National Championships in San Jose, California, where they earned their spot to compete in the AAU National Championships in Des Moines, Iowa.

On Aug. 1-6, the trio competed in the AAU National Championships in Des Moines, Iowa. At the competition, Johnnie set a new national record in the preliminaries for the 100 meter dash competition, breaking the old time of 11.27 with a new time of 10.91. In the finals, he received a bronze medal in the 100 meter dash and a bronze medal in the 200 meter dash.

"We were afraid we were not going to be able to attend the National meet because we didn't have enough funds for the trip. Thankfully, Dr. Mary Dupont and Clara Perez arranged for the school board to pay for our airline tickets which were $850 each. Most athletes were sent by their state, but we were sent by the Palm Beach County School Board. I hope they feel that we represented them well," said Coach Gelb.

"Johnny is being considered for the National Olympic Development Program. He is also a very good baseball player. At that level, he will have to make a very important decision. He will have to decide whether he wants to play in a team, which is more fun, or stand alone to become one of the best runners," concluded Coach Gelb.

On Saturday, Aug. 26, Coach Gelb will take the trio to Altamonte Springs for an awards dinner.

"I was responsible for teaching Johnnie the fundamentals of running, but all of the credit is to how far he has gone goes to him. Johnnie has an outstanding attitude, he is very disciplined and he is committed to doing his best. He constantly asked how he could improve. He has a very supportive family, which also makes a difference," concluded Track coach Tim Abrams.

Raiders shut down Wolverines 20-0

By Brant Bates

You sort of had the feeling the weather wasn't going to cooperate. After the pre-game warmups, the rains came and quite a few fans packed it in. Surely the game will be cancelled, their thinking must have been. So, both teams returned to their respective locker rooms while the off called for a 30-minute delay, after which they would determine the fields quality. Oh by the way, I almost forgot to mention that the field had just been re-sodded two days before and a portion of it was floating on the track. You get the idea. So after the delay, the officials decide the conditions were adequate, but for Wellingtons Quarterback Blake Thames and Runningback Antonio Battle and the rest of the Wolverines, this game should probably have been canceled.

The Wolverines returned the opening kickoff 25 yards and seemed to have the momentum as the game began. Thames opened the game with a couple of hand-offs to his fullback for a couple, leaving the Wolverines facing 3rd and 8. After a sweep attempt by Battle for no gain the Wolves had to punt.

The Raiders took possession after a short punt in good field position. On first down Michael Bryant took a dive off right tackle for about 4 yards. On second down Andre Bryant went off left tackle for a gain of about 30 yards that was nullified by a clip. The Raiders though, didn't abandon their plans to establish the ground game and after a number short gains between the tackles, the Raider's Offensive Coordinator had the Wolverines in position for what would follow. The Wolverines were packing their Defense in tight, in an attempt to slow up the rushing attack, so that left the Raider's Receivers in man coverage. Glades Central QB Musaleit hit WR Grant on a quick hitch and 43 yards and a fallen, muddy Defensive back later, Glades had their first score of the night. The Raiders attempted a 2-point conversion but were stopped short.

The Wolverines tried to respond after the ensuing kickoff with Battle making a couple of nice gainers and the FB complimenting him with some tough yards up the middle, but the Raiders closed the door as 39 recovered a fumble by the Wolverines, breaking their momentum. The Raiders took over and moved the ball downfield with the consistent rushing of Andre Bryant and were facing a scoring opportunity from the Wolverines 10 but couldn't capitalize.

The Wolverines took over at their own 10 and on first down Thames, with about four minutes before the gulf, rolled right and tucked-it under for a 10 yard gain. The play ended up netting 25 yards as the Raiders were hit with a personal foul for a face mask. The Wolverines again seemed to have the momentum with a mixture of sweeps and counter plays, so with 40 seconds remaining before halftime, the Wolverines had moved the ball to the Raiders 25 and were threatening to score, but there seemed to be a feeling among the defense that if by the end of the game if Wellington's score was anything other than zero, it wasn't a total victory.

Pahokee Blue Devils beat Fort Pierce 14-6

Pahokee linebacker Jeremy Banks sacked Tyrell Rice on the fourth-and-20 the first quarter of play in Friday night's game against Fort Pierce.

"He's recruited by Division I schools at linebacker. Tonight he showed why he deserves it," said Coach Joe Marx.

Banks had two more sacks, one for a 15-yard loss.

Pahokee running back LeFann Williams rushed for 77 yards on 12 carries in the first half.

Wide receiver Leniwood Johnson scored both of Pahokee's touchdowns: One, a 19-yard pass from QB Jimmy Wells and second, from a 7-yard pass from Anquan Boldin.

The Pahokee Blue Devils had 12 penalties for 71 yards.

"We've played Vero Beach

the last two years. We have 5-A talent. Friday's game against a larger school is the kind of game they're accustomed to," said Coach

Marx.

Gators clip Eagles 40-7.....

By Eddie Campbell

The Gators opened their 1995-96 football season by going to Pope John Paul last Friday and delivering a 40-7 beating to the Eagles.

Junior tailback Lee Sweet led the Gator's rushing attack by gaining 152 yards on 19 carries and scoring three touchdowns. Senior full back Brad Seider added 60 yards on seven carries and scored one touchdown. The Gators had a total of 233 yards rushing for the game.

The Gators looked in mid-season form during their first game by scoring on their first four possession. Pope John Paul showed they need a few more weeks of practice to learn how to hold on to the ball. The Eagles fumbled nine times during the game and the Gators took advantage of their mistakes by recovering the ball three of those times. The Eagles were also penalized eight times for 70 yards.

"I think we did an excellent job this week," said Glades Day School Head Coach Mandy Perez. "We have a great offense and a great defense."

The Gators defense was led by Senior defensive lineman Patrick Altman, who seemed to always be around the ball no matter where it was; seven times Altman was in on a tackle for a loss. Senior linebacker Brad Seider also had 11 tackles and two fumble recoveries. The Gators held the Eagles to 121 total yards of offense.

At halftime the Gators were ahead 26-0 on Sweet's three touchdowns and Jackie Garrett's pass to Heath Norman from nine yards out.

The only bright spot for the Eagles was tailback Jerry Westbrook's 82 yard touchdown late in the fourth quarter.

The Gators start their regular season next week at home against 4A Miami-Pace.

Coach Perez said the Miami-Pace team will be tough to beat. "I've looked at their film and they look really good. They have some tremendous athletes," he noted, including at 6'5" left-handed quarterback.

The game will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Glades Day School.

Fishing with Pro-Angler Walt Reynolds

I don't think we are going to have a shortage of water in the lake this year. I was on the lake guiding Saturday and the lake was rising.

The rising water level will effect the location of the bass so take this into account when you are out next time. There are still a lot of fish holding in the open water on ledges and rock piles. There are also fish starting to move into the heavy bull rushes and reeds.

A Carolina rigged worm and crank bait will work well in the open water areas and flipping a Texas rigged crawdad or worm will take fish from the heavy cover.

Don't forget to try a top water bait early if the conditions are right - light winds and low light.

I would like to welcome the readers of The Sun in Belle Glade this week. I hope you enjoy the reports and articles.

With the hurricane season nearing a peak be sure to keep an eye on the weather while on the lake. Even without a tropical storm or hurricane in the area, we can have a severe thunderstorm pop up in a very short time.

Lightning can be the biggest hazard associated with these storms. Lightning can strike as far as 20 miles away from a storm so if one appears in the area and you are hearing thunder, it is time to get off the water or take shelter. Remember, a graphite rod makes a great lightning rod, so if a storm approaches, lay down your rods immediately.

If static electricity can be felt by your hair standing up, snapping on your rod, or a tendency for the line to "float" above the water, leave at once as a lightning strike is almost a sure thing.

Just a reminder, most boat registrations were due in June.

To all a good bite

Result - Blocked field goal. Half-time score Raiders 6 - Wolverines 0.

The Wolverines opened up the second half with Smith at QB, giving the impression that neither Thames was hurt or that they had ceded the victory to the Raiders. Whatever the reason they went three and out, leaving the Raiders in good field position.

The Raiders began their first possession of the second half headed in the wrong direction after two consecutive illegal motion penalties. But those problems were soon corrected as Andre Bryant picked up a punt where he left off with more tough running. After a couple of nice runs by Michael Bryant, the Wolverines were primed for the sucker punch again as Musalet found Grant on the fade route for the TD. The pass was caught on a portion of the field that would have done Lake Okechobee proud and Grant did his best swan lake as he walked on water and into the end zone.

The play was made even more spectacular due to the fact that two Wellington players tipped the ball prior to Grant catching it. The Raiders were successful with the 2-point conversion makin g the score Raiders 14 - Wellington 0.

Thames returned to the game after the score and while facing a number of the Raiders reserves, moved the Wolverines downfield. The Wolves had been given good field position after a 35 yard return by a Wellington player deemed "The Missile". On their first play from scrimmage Thames hit "The Missile" on a slant patter for another 35 yards. That was followed by a 5 yard option keeper by Thames and 10 yard run by the

FB. The Wolverines were facing first and goal at the 10 when the Raiders returned their defensive starters to the game, sending a signal to the Wolverines that they could remove scoring from the nights agenda. On first down the Wolverines ran a WR reverse for a gain of 5 yards. On second down they tested the FB up the middle for no gain. Third down was an attempt to get Battle into the end zone off right tackle to no avail as the play also resulted in no gain. So on 4th and goal from the 5 yard line, Teddy Simms, who had been in on each of the three previous stops, tossed a Wellington lineman to the turf and made a solo stop to thwart another Wellington scoring opportunity. The Raiders took over at the 5 and went three and out with punter Dominick Denson showing great composure as he punted out of his own end zone. The Wolverines took the ball at midfield and went 4 and out as the defense maintained its domination of Wellington.

Raiders took possession and Michael Bryant promptly broke through 6 Wellington defenders on his way to a 31 yard Touchdown run to seal the win. Brad Banks attempted a two-point conversion but the pass fell incomplete. On the ensuing kickoff, as if to emphasize that a football game is played until the final whistle, Teddy Simms planted the hit of the night on Battle, spinning Battle upon his neck. Battle was slow coming to his feet but did not seem to be seriously injured. The clock wound down on the Wolverines, but maybe it would have been better if it hadn't started at all.

Final score was Raiders 20, Wolverines 0.
